

General Information

Once you are in Little Falls, to get to Canal Place, you just have to follow the signs...it's that simple! Many who visit Little Falls decide to stay in order to buy and restore older homes. We are proud of the many examples of magnificent architecture in our community. Visit Canal Place, and experience all that Little Falls has to offer.

This Stone Mill was erected in 1839, the oldest building in the historic district. Originally known as Stitt & Underhill, the mill produced wool uniform cloth under military contracts during the Mexican-American and Civil Wars. Like the many other mills in Little Falls, water from the Mohawk River was used to power the machinery. This mill was expanded by 1845 to double its size.

David Taylor and Richard Vogt purchased the mill building in June 2005. The first level is home to The Mustard Seed, "a big little gift shop," and Stone Mill Antiques. Ole Sal's Dairy and Creamery offers ice cream and a unique coffee shop atmosphere that is ever expanding. The first floor is the only retail floor in the building. The second floor of the building houses our 50-seat Black Box Theatre and Riverside Banquet Room for functions of up to 65 people overlooking the Mohawk River.

We look forward to your visit, and please enjoy the rest of our city while you are here. Little Falls is unique in its vast array of architectural styles, and Canal Place has become an area of historic revitalization in our community. We hope that you will enjoy what Little Falls and Canal Place have to offer and what we will continue to bring to our area in the near future.

The Inn now also features a banquet room on the second floor complete with a kitchen for use by caterers, and seating for up to 65 individuals.
